Issuing Compliance Agreements (PPQ Form 519) With Cotton Compresses and Warehouses for the Phytosanitary Inspection of Compressed, Baled Cotton

Contents

Introduction

Because there is little or no risk of spreading plant pests internationally through the movement of compressed, baled cotton, establishments which operate cotton compresses and warehouses may perform phytosanitary inspection of compressed, baled cotton when operating under a compliance agreement. This appendix details the criteria to be covered when writing a compliance agreement for cotton compresses or warehouses.

The compliance agreement must include the following minimal criteria, but you are free to include any additional requirements:

1. The compresses or warehouses must provide uniform universal density compressed, baled cotton.
2. Visually inspect each shipment to ensure that the bales are free from the following:
 - ❖ Living insects
 - ❖ Cottonseed
 - ❖ Soil
 - ❖ Other contaminants

It is important to insist on absolute freedom from the above named objects because cotton industry representatives will probably not possess sufficient knowledge, ability, or authority to differentiate between quarantine, injurious, and innocuous organisms/objects.

3. Load clearly marked bales which have been segregated from flat cotton (uncompressed to universal density) into clean containers.
4. Maintain a file of shipping documents showing the following:
 - ❖ Number of bales
 - ❖ Marks
 - ❖ Signature of the manager or authorized representative

Make this file available on request to USDA, APHIS, PPQ employees or State plant regulatory officials (SPRO's).

Some PPQ and/or State regulatory officials may prefer the establishment to use PPQ Form 572 "Application for Inspection and Certification of Domestic Plants and Plant Products for Export" in addition to the compress/warehouse records. When using PPQ Form 572, the exporter in cooperation with the compress/warehouse must complete items 12 through 17 on PPQ Form 572. (See page-2-4-1 for other uses of compliance agreements.)

5. Contact PPQ or SPRO's prior to an exported shipping date and present the supporting data necessary to complete a Federal phytosanitary certificate.
6. Allow periodic inspection of the operation and facilities by PPQ or SPRO's to ensure all elements of the compliance agreement are being satisfied.

See Figure H-1-1 for an example of a completed Compliance Agreement (PPQ Form 519).

COMPLIANCE AGREEMENT
Continental Cotton Warehouse P.O. Box 1330 Memphis, TN	3440 Fountain Blvd. Memphis, TN (615) 555-3434
Cotton Bales 7 CFR 353
That in authorizing and participating in the treatment of uniform universal density compressed baled cotton as a basis for the certification of regulated articles, no liability shall be attached either to the United States Department of Agriculture, to cooperating agencies, or to any of their employees in the event of injury to the property or the regulated articles; to handle, process, and move regulated articles in accordance with the provisions of applicable plant and pest quarantines; to use all permits and certificates in accordance with instructions; to maintain and offer for inspection such records as may be required; to carry out all additional conditions, treatments, procedures, precautions, and sanitary measures which may be required by the Plant Protection and Quarantine (PPQ) Officer in the following stipulations:
A. To only export COTTON requiring phytosanitary certification in bales compressed to universal density. B. To visually inspect each shipment to ascertain that the bales are free from living insects, cottonseed, soil, or other contaminants. C. To load only clearly marked bales that have been kept segregated from uncompressed cotton into clean containers. D. To maintain files of shipping documents showing the number of bales, marks, and the signature of the manager or their or their authorized agent. Such files will be available for inspection upon request by federal or state plant regulatory officials. E. To contact PPQ prior to an expected shipping date by using a PPQ Form 572, Application for Inspection and Certification of Domestic Plants and Plant Products for Export, for each shipment. F. Compliance agreements are non-transferable. If the individual leaves his/her present employer or company, he/she must notify the local USDA office promptly. With the signature below, the person undertakes the responsibility for compliance for all conditions in the Compliance Agreement for all persons below directly supervised who may be involved with the regulated articles. G. (List other conditions as required).
